

FASCINATING FIND

KITCHEN SLICER

This slicer was used in Long Flat hall many years ago.

It was made by the Arcadia Manufacturing Company in New York in the 1890s.

Constructed of oak timber with cast iron fittings and a steel blade, it features an adjustable thickness setting.

It was donated to the museum by W Beattie and is displayed in the kitchen of the House.